—Shakespeare

"Everything"

—Miller & Rhoads

The purpose of a name is to identify its owner, but ultimately it serves also to identify whatever of mind and heart its owner possesses, so that in the last analysis a good name is like a title page of Hamlet—it bespeaks the quality of its contents.

Just a little less than thirty-one years ago "Miller & Rhoads" was a name (merely)—to-day it is a great institution—a three-fold synonym for Merchandise of Quality, Service and Satisfaction—a guarantee that your Merchandise wants will be intelligently and promptly looked after, whether you shop at the store in person, or through the mails, and always at the lowest cost to you.

*If It Is From Miller & Rhoads

---the STYLE Is Right!*

You see, we put "quality" FIRST!

And whether it be Wearing Apparel, something in Homefurnishings, an article for one's personal use, or a gift to others, if it is from Miller & Rhoads, the satisfaction derived from ownership of it will be RIGHT, and the impression conveyed by it will be RIGHT, because people instinctively associate good merchandise with "Miller & Rhoads." Such is the prestige of a NAME!

MILLER & RHOADS.

WILLIAM CAMACK DROWNS IN CHESTERFIELD SPRING

With Head Lying in Fourteen Inches of Water, Body Is Found Near His Home.

With his head in fourteen inches of water, William Camack was found dead in a spring near his home in Chesterfield County on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Camack, who was sixty-eight years of age, had for the past twenty-five years been operating a grist mill, and was one of the most widely known citizens of the county. His mill was the old Bolona Arsenal, on the James River, about twelve miles above Richmond. The arsenal, the walls of which are still standing, was well known as the place where the Confederate States government manufactured cannon during the War Between the States.

Mr. Camack passed the spring on his way back from the mill to his home near-by. How he slipped and fell in is a matter of conjecture, as there was no one with him. Later in the evening his body was found with the head in the water.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock from Bethlehem Baptist Church. Interment was made in the church burying grounds.

Mr. Camack is survived by his wife, Mrs. Susie Burton Camack, and by eight children, Sam F. William E. Gordon C. M. M. Arthur B. Camack, of Amelia County, Misses Addie E. Susie A. Mrs. L. S. Jordan, of Middleham, and Mrs. Willie L. Heinstein, of Richmond.

OPERATORS HAVE OUTING

Western Union Men Discard Code and Spend Day at Falling Creek.

Employees of the operating department of the Western Union Telegraph Company discarded the Morse alphabet entirely yesterday morning and enjoyed their annual outing at Falling Creek.

The affair was attended by C. Smith, chief operator, several other officials and a large number of the operators and their friends.

From the time they left Manchester Station, on a special car, at 6 o'clock until their return at 6 o'clock last night, there was not a dull in the festivities. L. C. Surles was in charge of the arrangements.

U. D. C. TO JOIN EXERCISES

Richmond Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, has been invited, through its president, Mrs. Norman V. Randolph, to participate in the exercises on Wednesday incident to the observance of H-brew Memorial Day. Mrs. Randolph will be out of the city on that day, and, in her absence, Mrs. Charles E. Massie, first vice-president of the organization, will represent the chapter.

The exercises, beginning at 8 o'clock, will be held in the Hebrew Cemetery, at Fifth and Hospital Streets, and will be in honor of the memory of the Confederate soldiers who are buried there.

Two Are Awarded Prizes.

University Chapter, No. 2, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, awarded prizes on Saturday to C. S. Johnson and Thomas Gabney for the two best papers on the subject, "The Immediate Program of the American Negro." LEAVE FOR BIRMINGHAM
ABOARD SPECIAL TRAIN

Richmond Veterans Off Over Southern for Confederate Reunion in Alabama City.

BIG CROWD WAVES FAREWELL

A special train of six cars left Main Street Station over the Southern Railway at 6:30 o'clock last night bearing the Richmond Confederate Veterans—about seventy-five of R. E. Lee Camp, No. 1, 100 members of R. S. Chew Camp, Sons of Confederate Veterans, of Fredericksburg, and a large number of wives and daughters, all on their way to attend the Confederate Reunion in Birmingham, on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

There were many spectators under the big shed as the veterans, all wearing the Confederate gray, and with their badges conspicuously displayed on the front of their coats, assembled. There were forty-five elected delegates from Lee Camp, and almost that many more are also attending. There was waving of handkerchiefs and hats as they started to attend another reunion of the men of '61-65.

The railway company has arranged to make the trip an ideal one. A special passenger agent will see that all unnecessary delays are avoided, and that the train will arrive at Birmingham on time. It probably will prove rather eventful, some trip at best to some of the older men, the weather being warm and the journey a long one.

SPECIAL WILL REACH BIRMINGHAM TO-MORROW

The special will arrive in Birmingham to-morrow morning and the party will be in the Alabama city in time to participate in the first exercises of the encampment.

A number of veterans, headed by Lieutenant-Governor J. Taylor Ellyson, left on Saturday afternoon. Mr. Ellyson is chairman of the Board of the Confederate Memorial Institute. Veterans from other parts of the State passed through Richmond yesterday in small groups.

A special train carrying a provisional company of Richmond Blues and the rifle and drum corps of the Boy Scouts will leave Main Street Station over the Southern at 7 o'clock this evening. The Boy Scouts will stay in their special car, which is to be parked in Birmingham. Charles L. Weaver, Scout executive, will be in charge of the party.

The Richmond Grays Battalion will leave Main Street Station at 7 o'clock this evening and proceed by the way that the Blues are taking. On returning, the special will follow the trunk line of the Southern by way of the train bearing the Blues and Boy Scouts will take the opposite route, proceeding direct to Birmingham, and taking the Chattanooga route on the return trip.

VETERANS WILL RETURN

The veterans from Lee Camp are expected to return to Richmond on Sunday. The special train on the return trip will stop in Atlanta for several hours. The Grays' special, as well as the Blues' special, will also return to Richmond on Sunday. It was explained that the various trains are routed in this way because of the large number which will run in and out of Birmingham, transporting the veterans and the various military or organizations attending to assist in the parade and other features of the reunion.

Lee Camp is represented by the following delegates and alternates: Delegates—John Lamb, W. McK. Evans, G. K. Roper, Frank H. Babm, J. Taylor Stratton, David A. Brown, Jr., J. Taylor Johnson, W. Miles Cary, E. D. Taylor, J. Taylor Ellyson, George L. Christian and J. W. D. Farrar. Alternates—A. C. Peay, H. M. Walchall, E. Scott Gibbs, W. R. Wood, A. C. Wren, George T. Dean, J. Henry Cracker, W. R. Hall, Lightfoot, J. C. Robertson, J. J. Brower and W. E. Moore.

PROGRAM IS REPLETE WITH INTERESTING EVENTS

The reunion opens to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock in the Bijou Theater. The preliminary exercises will be the formal welcome to the city or the part of all organizations of Birmingham and Alabama. During the afternoon, Judge John T. Goodrich, of Fredericksburg will deliver an oration on "The Confederate Soldier." To-morrow night there will be a banquet and ball in honor of the visiting sponsors.

Irvin S. Cobb, the well-known war correspondent and writer, will deliver the annual oration.

On Wednesday the regular reunion business will be the order of the day. There will be the official parade of the nation in honor and sponsors in the afternoon and a ball at night.

The grand parade of veterans will be held on Thursday morning at 10 o'clock. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon there will be a shambattle in the fair grounds between the Alabama National Guard, field artillery, and the First Texas Battalion, of the United Confederate Veterans.

The following young women will be graduated as trained nurses: Misses Julia Alexandria Wright, Myrtle Virginia Pleasant, Anna Alice Hardaway, Lucy Wynne Jeffrey, Alice Priscilla Ryland and Mable Leo Vaughan.

"A Springtime Jubilee" Will Be Given on May 21, Students of Southside Schools.

"A Springtime Jubilee" will be held on Tuesday evening, May 23, by the students of Powhatan Schools, Nos. 1 and 2, South Richmond, in the Baldwin Junior High School Auditorium. There will be 200 students of the school taking part in the program, which will include folk dances of several nations and May pole dances.

The children will be costumed to fit the occasion of a "May Fete." The program is expected to prove an interesting one.

The proceeds will be for the schools' libraries and for pictures for classrooms.

DEMAND RIGID REPORTS OF MERCHANTS' ACCOUNTS

Letters Prepared by State Tax Board Place Duty on Examiners and Revenue Commissioners.

BELIEVE MANY DODGE LAW

Of 18,000 Dealers in Virginia, Records Show That Only One-Half More Than $1,000.

Letters are being prepared by the State Tax Board to be sent out this week to examiners of records and commissioners of the revenue, calling upon them to investigate strictly and rigidly the reports of purchases of every merchant, especially those reports which would permit the maker to satisfy his obligations to the State by paying a license fee of $5 or $10.

Notice of this warning is contained in a letter which goes forward to-day from the State Auditor's office to the commissioners of revenue. These officers are put on notice to bring to the attention of merchants, when they take out their licenses, the necessity of stating accurately their actual purchases. The loose manner heretofore prevailing in assessing merchants' license taxes, the commissioners are notified, will not be permitted if the enforcement of the laws of the State can prevent it.

BELIEVE MANY EVADE PAYING LARGE SUMS

Of a total of 18,000 merchants in Virginia, 9,000, or one-half, reported last year that their total purchases were less than $1,000, which they paid the minimum license tax of $5. More than 3,000 reported purchases in excess of $2,000 and paid a license tax of $10. It is clear to the State Board that most of the 9,000 merchants grossly underrated the value of their purchases and in this manner evaded the payment of a large sum of taxes.

The fact that the merchants' license taxes were not changed by the last Legislature has left the Tax Board only the remedy of compelling a truthful compliance with the law respecting purchases in order to secure from this source a portion of the increased revenues that will be needed in 1917 to wipe out an impending deficit. The merchants themselves have estimated that the amendments requiring a more careful accounting as to purchases will bring in additional revenues amounting to approximately $200,000 a year.

HOLDS OFFICIALLY DERELICT IN ENFORCING THE LAW

Auditor Moore's letter to the commissioners of the revenue serves notice that the State Tax Board will shortly issue instructions to examiners and local boards of review respecting the investigation of all returns of merchants' purchases, and reads, in part, as follows:

The Commonwealth has heretofore realized a considerable amount of the revenue she was entitled to receive, under the law, from merchants, due to the fact that numerous merchants have not accurately reported their purchases, and due to the fact that commissioners of the revenue have not always required merchants to make the reports of purchase under oath as the law directs, and to the fact that commissioners have not examined the invoices, books and accounts of the merchants, nor have the commissioners tested the accuracy of the reports furnished them by taking into consideration the answers made by the merchants respecting expenses for rent, rental value of premises, expense for employees, etc., which would be a factor in determining whether the purchases are correctly reported. It is the amount of expenses under which a merchant does business will indicate whether the probable profits on the purchases reported will justify the expenses borne in carrying on the business.

"In instances it has been the custom of the commissioner merely to ask the merchant if he purchases were about the same as they were the year or 'Shall I put you down the same as last year?' and similar questions.

The position you hold in assessing the revenue of the Commonwealth is the most responsible position in the fiscal department of the Commonwealth, and I desire now to impress upon you and trust the managers in which you discharge your duty in connection with the assessment of the merchants' license taxes, as well as the other duties put upon you by the law, will be evidenced by your activity, capacity and fidelity."

SEES SECOND BLOODY WAR AND EARLY END OF WORLD

Arthur G. Daniels, Interests Big Audience at Auditorium on Analysis of "Battle of Armageddon."

Speaking to a large audience in the City Auditorium yesterday afternoon, Arthur G. Daniels, of Washington, interested his hearers in his analysis of "The Battle of Armageddon." He predicted the early end of the earth, basing his prophecies on biblical verses. He spoke for a considerable time on the place which Constantinople occupies in the politics of the world, and declared that the day of the Ottoman Empire is almost over, and that the Turk will be expelled from Europe at the end of the present war.

He predicted that when the war is over and Constantinople is to be a prize of one of the great nations, the victorious nations would fall out over possession of the city and the Bosphorus and Dardanelles, and that a still bloodier war would ensue.

During this war, he prophesied the coming of Christ and the end of the world. The battle of Armageddon, he said, would be fought for possession of Jerusalem, which city he said is to be the capital of Turkey after the fall of Constantinople.

It was announced that Carlisle B. Hanes, of Atlanta, will speak on next Sunday night in the City Auditorium.

MAKE FURTHER EFFORT FOR BOARD OF CENSORS

Advocates of Plan to Restrict Moving Pictures Will Be Heard on Thursday Night.

ORDINANCE NOW IS PENDING

Council Committee Has Measure Which Provides Salaries of $1,200 Annually for Three Members if Body Is Created.

Further effort to cause the appointment of a salaried motion-picture censorship board will be made at the meeting of the Council Ordinance Committee on Thursday night. The committee now has before it an ordinance to create a censorship board of three members, one of whom shall be a woman, qualified, in the terms of the ordinance, to pass upon all motion pictures presented to her. All must be residents of Richmond, and each is to receive a salary of $1,200. One member of the board is to serve as secretary, and for the general expenses a fund of $300 is provided. Power of appointment is vested in the Judge of the Hastings Court, to whom appeal may be taken in case of contest against any ruling of the board.

At its last meeting the Ordinance Committee heard long and exhaustive testimony in favor of censorship from minister and layman and from several social and civic organizations, and the matter was tabled, so that more informative data might be secured, until the next meeting. Clerk Alfred H. McDowell was instructed to write to Congressman A. J. Montague to learn from him the progress in the national assembly of a bill to provide for a national censorship board, and to try to get from all cities having censorship boards copies of the ordinances under which they were created and under which they are managed.

CONGRESS WILL NOT ACT AT PRESENT SESSION

Mr. McDowell already has received a reply from Congressman Montague. Mr. Montague wrote to say that it was likely that the bill now pending in the House would not be acted upon at this session. Mr. McDowell has received copies of ordinances adopted in several other cities, and others have been received by the organizations which are working for the creation of the censorship board.

The ordinance now before the committee is modeled after a Maryland law. It was presented as a substitute for an ordinance which would have placed the censorship in the hands of the Superintendent of Public Schools. Superintendent J. A. C. Chandler, while approving of motion-picture censorship, stated to the committee that it would be impossible for him to take up the additional duty, his work as school superintendent being sufficiently ample to exhaust all his time.

WERNER DOES NOT FAVOR CENSORSHIP BY POLICE

Such censorship has existed in Richmond for many years. Mayor Werner, however, and according to the Mayor, it has seemed to be effective and to achieve the results desired. Mayor Werner stated to the committee that he had never experienced difficulty with managers of motion-picture theaters, and that they had always willingly followed his suggestions as to eliminating those features against which objection had been placed. He said, however, that he preferred that the department be relieved of this work.

It was brought out at the last meeting, through questioning, that few of those who are laboring for the creation of a motion-picture censorship board are frequenters of the "movies," and that they spoke from hearsay. Mayor Ainslie, in a letter to the committee, stated that it was significant that the cry for censorship had not come from the great army of theatergoers, who, he said, are as able to judge of the proprieties as the rest of the public.

The ordinance calls for an appropriation of $3,000, and if it be recommended by the committee, must go before the Finance Committee for final recommendation and report.

Gans-Rady CompanyAll Tribute Paid
on "Mothers' Day"

At Home and in Church Occasion Is Accorded Observance Demanded.

In church, at home, on the street and everywhere that men were gathered yesterday, "Mothers' Day" received the observance which the occasion demanded. Preachers from their pulpits glorified motherhood, and men on the street paid their humble tribute by wearing a white carnation. It was distinctively her day—the mother's—product not of ancient religion, but an observance created of and in the mind of man.

Since the day when the sainted mother wept over her sacrifice and lavished his feet with her tears there has never been, until in recent years, a time set aside in which to give her honor. Now one day in the year is given over entirely to her memory. The preachers draw their text from lessons on motherhood, and every man, whether he be a humble farmer or occupant of high stool, halts for a moment in the day's work or leisurely play to give outward signs of his inward devotion.

In Richmond, on Saturday, women stood about the street corners to sell carnations or badges for a charity done in the name of mother, so that no where should any child be neglected. The sales were large, and the returns were generous. It was an appeal that no man, remembering his own childhood and her who bore him and tended him against danger and care, could refuse. None declined. Every man wore a carnation or badge.

Nor was the day for outward observance only. Every son was expected to write to his mother if he lived away from home, and if he were fortunate enough to live beneath the same roof to do her homage in some other way. So yesterday many a humble scrawl was written home as a special remembrance, and 1,000 mothers were gladdened with tidings from their sons.

In most of the churches the day was observed with special services, and nearly all the sermons were hinged upon some topic about motherhood. Large congregations were assembled, and every man wore in his lapel the white flower, emblematic of purity and sacrifice, of the love which lingers when the body is still.

WILL ADD $3,000,000
TO DISTRICT RESERVES

Member Banks of Fifth District Will Pay Third Installment by To-Morrow.

REACH TOTAL OF $14,500,000

Clearing and Collection Service Will Not Be Inaugurated Next Month, but Deferred Until July to Work Out Details.

The amount of reserves kept by member banks of the Fifth District, in the Richmond Federal Reserve Bank, will be increased $3,000,000 this week under the provisions of the currency act requiring the third installment of reserves to be paid by to-morrow. With this new transfer the reserve total piled up in the vault of the local institution will reach approximately $14,500,000.

Only one more installment of reserves remains to be paid in, before the provisions of the currency act will be fully complied with. This payment will be made on November 1, and will raise the amount of member bank reserves on deposit here to $18,000,000. The act requires banks in reserve cities to maintain in the Federal Reserve Banks 15 per cent of their demand and 5 per cent of their time deposits. In the case of banks outside reserve cities the requirements are 12 and 6 per cent, respectively.

DEFER INAUGURATION OF COLLECTION SERVICE

The large amount of detail work necessary for putting into effect the clearing and collection service which is to be added to the functions of the Federal Reserve Bank system, it appears now, will cause the inauguration of this system to be deferred from the middle of June, the date tentatively fixed for the beginning of the service, until probably the middle of July.

Governor George J. Slay, of the Federal Reserve Bank of Richmond, returned to the city last night after an absence of several days at Atlantic City. The Federal Reserve Bank, he said, has found the task of working out the collection and clearing system an ambitious one, but the plan is on the way to completion.

If the Federal collection system proves the success that the authorities anticipate, it will assume all of the functions now performed by the local Country Clearing Association, probably rendering unnecessary the further continuance of this organization. It will probably interfere, however, with the Richmond Clearing House Association, which, performing a clearing service that is purely local, will continue its present service.
